1 The background of the Home Page (and each sub section page) will have a full-width video playing as the background image of each of the major sections. My proposed solution is that the video will be more of an ambient loop so it won't detract from the content that appears on top of the background

2 The Roundabout logo and additional welcome message will appear centered and floating above the looped video background... (Optional: a logo for each major section can be designed and placed either under or in-place-of the welcome paragraph. Example included to the right >>>>
